Mandatory Training

Ms. Scott invited Kim Pouncey with Top Shelf to speak to the Board on the issue of training, which was in response to conversations at the Anderson County Underage Drinking Task Force. Ms. Pouncey discussed her passion for training, with particular emphasis on preventing underage beer purchases through training how to spot fake IDs. There was much discussion on this issue, with comments highlighted below:

Ms. Solmonson stated city ordinance does require training and that she thought the beer permit holders in Oak Ridge did a good job with training their employees. She was unaware of any problems and asked if anyone else was aware of problems.

Chairman Tedford stated the city ordinance does require training, applicants are told to train their employees and are told they have no obligation to sell. He also stated mandatory yearly training would be an unfair burden on the small businesses. He would not be in favor of requiring any specific training program, but would not be opposed to setting goals for businesses regarding training.

Ms. Pouncey stated if compliance checks are not done, then there is no way to know whether employees are selling to underage kids. Additionally, there are ways for the Board to monitor compliance with training by asking for training certificates of employees when a business fails a compliance check and imposing higher penalties if employees are not trained.

Secretary Bailey stated resources are strained for conducting compliance checks. He also stated as far as he was willing to go would be to recommend to Council that training be equivalent to the state's responsible vendor training requirements, but not to require certain training organizations or that businesses have to pay for training.

Stacy Pratt, ASAP, offered the services of ASAP as needed and offered to search for grant funding to pay for officer overtime to conduct compliance checks.

Mr. Mosby asked whether there was a problem and, if so, how are they assessing the problem and what is recommended to solve the problem. He stated if he felt something was in the best interests of Oak Ridge, the Board needs to be a voice for the City and to Council.

Ms. Scott stated she believes there is a problem with training because businesses come before the Board and state they will check IDs but convenience store clerks don't ask for IDs and don't pay attention when they do, but are only looking to see if a date is valid. She stated it was important for the Board to make businesses aware of their responsibilities.

Mr. Osborne stated he is in the banking business and IDs are checked all the time to see if they look valid, not expired, etc.

Ms. Williams stated she is just as concerned as Ms. Scott.

Chairman Tedford asked the members to think about it and make notes regarding training.

New Business – Outback Steakhouse

Secretary Bailey asked Ms. Dunn to contact Outback and ask whether they are serving beer during their ABC-imposed suspension.

ADJOURNMENT

There being no other business to come before the Board, Chairman Tedford moved, seconded by Secretary Bailey, to adjourn the meeting at 6:22 p.m. and the motion carried unanimously.

Respectfully submitted,

Barton Bailey, Secretary
